ANZAC Day Commemorations in Beverley

At 4.59am in the pre-dawn, light a horse and rider and riderless pony moved slowly down the road at the side of the Cenotaph. The Beverley Pony Club evoked memories of those who enlisted in 1914 to 1918 and formed what became the 10th Light Horse Regiment.

This signalled the commencement of 50 minutes of audio visual presentations expertly compiled by Steve Ramm. One screen showing film footage of various battles and scenes from Gallipoli to Vietnam and the other commemorating the Australian lives lost in all combat and peacekeeping missions since white settlement in this country.

At 5.30am there was a brief delay while a train passed through the station precinct, which gave some of the estimated 500 attending a memory that our troops left the town by train to travel to the muster point at Blackboy Hill in Guildford. As these screens faded into the simple words "Lest We Forget", Phil Richardson as a lone piper started playing in the car park next to the Station and then led the marchers to their mark at the Cenotaph – next to the Jeep provided as a static display by Neil Jefferson.

Mr Bruce Mann read several excerpts from his Grandfather's Gallipoli diary which recorded the actual experiences of one who served in that theatre of war.

With all that had been experienced, in almost complete stillness in the hour preceding, the Last Post, the Silence, the Ode and Reveille were even more moving than usual. Flags were flown on three flag poles this year, remembering Australian and New Zealand forces and for the first time the Aboriginal Flag was flown at the special request of the National RSL and Department of Veteran's Affairs that these service men and women be especially acknowledged this year.

Following playing of Kelly Newton-Wordsworth's singing "Lest We Forget", our piper again played to lead our marchers and members of the public to the RSL Hall for a Gunfire Breakfast wonderfully catered by the RSL Social Committee.

At 11am saw around 400 gathered to see the Veterans Parade led again by Phil Richardson on bagpipes. Mrs Joan McQuin, Student Leaders from Beverley High School, Beverley Station Arts Choir accompanied by Mrs Judith Moulton, Irene Oram representing the RSL, all ably guided by Mr John Lane as Master of Ceremonies, provided a moving service of commemoration. Wreaths were laid by local organisations and members of the public in remembrance of family who served.

Many people in the Beverley community contributed to the success of these commemorations – too many to mention here, but you all know who you are. The Beverley Sub-Branch of the Returned and Services League extends sincere appreciation to you all for the success of this commemoration.

President Report May 2015

Financial Assistance

Grants (FAGS)

Financial Assistance Grants (FAGS) are important untied funding provided to Councils by the Federal Government which is invested in a range of essential community infrastructure and services such as local roads and parks, swimming pools and libraries.

In 1996 FAGS represented around 1% of the total Federal taxation revenue. In 2013 this had dropped to 0.67% and following the 2014 Federal Budget announcement of a 3 year FAGS indexation freeze that figure will drop towards 0.53% in 2017-2018.

The Australian Local Government Association (ALGA) is concerned by the shrinking proportion of Federal tax revenue that FAGS represent and estimates the indexation freeze equates to a $925m funding reduction to Local Government over three years. ALGA is lobbying on behalf of all Local Governments to have the indexation restored and a review of the adequacy of the quantum of FAGS and indexation methodology.

The indexation freeze will affect Beverley in the order of $170,000 - $200,000 over the three years.

Tourism Steering Committee and Community Workshops

The Tourism Steering Committee held its first meeting at which each member gave a brief outline of their background and interest in tourism planning for Beverley. The objectives of WHY develop a tourism framework, HOW tourism could be progressed and WHAT there is to offer were discussed by the group, with members encouraged to visit assets they have not yet experienced.

Members of the committee are Cr Dee Ridgway (Chairman), Cr Tom Buckland, Kathryn McLean (Community Development Officer), Sam Fricker (CRC Assistant Co-ordinator), Tiang Heng Ee, Jo Johnson, Scott McLean, Jacinta Murray, Kate Sofoulis and Arie Valkhoff.

Two Community workshops are proposed for Wednesday 13th May 2015 to discuss tourism in Beverley and seek feedback toward the process. Please see elsewhere in the Blarney for further details of these workshops.

Telecommunications – Erratic and/or Poor Phone and Data coverage

Council proposes to meet with Telstra representatives in the near future to discuss ongoing issues of poor mobile phone and data coverage in the Shire, declining and erratic reception within the town, and ascertain what future plans are proposed for the region and Beverley district in particular.

Telecommunications is a Federal responsibility however the State government has allocated royalties funding to assist with improved coverage along our state highways. Telstra is the main provider in rural and remote areas, however current usage has outgrown the capacity for which infrastructure was built. Other providers are installing infrastructure to service mobile coverage in some towns and regional centres. Residents with poor coverage may have installed signal boosters in their homes, however this doesn't assist those out in the paddock. Boosters are permissible, but come at an additional cost, so perhaps there may be some cheaper illegal versions installed, which might be affecting everyone else's access to the network because they use a different frequency. Repeaters are illegal and banned. The Federally funded NBN aims to provide fast internet service into the home. Whilst all this information can be confusing, one thing for certain is that poor or erratic mobile phone and data coverage is extremely frustrating. Please talk to one of your shire councillors if you are experiencing problems so this information can be passed on.

“Remembering Them Exhibition”

The Beverley Historical Society is to be congratulated on the research undertaken to investigate the social impact and human cost of WW1 on the Beverley district. The group has collated information and memorabilia into an exhibition at the Dead Finish Museum which runs until September and I encourage everyone to make time to visit the museum and learn about this period of Beverley's history.

ANZAC in Beverley

ANZAC commemorations in Beverley were held with ceremonies and services in various locations which have included the school, town centre, sporting events and a special predawn video presentation at the cenotaph. The “Remembering Them Exhibition”, floral tributes and banners in the Main Street provide ongoing observances. Delys, Joyce and Pat again prepared a wreath which was laid on behalf of the Shire and Citizens of Beverley by Cr Murray at the town service.

UWA Student Visit

Following on from the UWA School of Population visit to Beverley during March, the students are planning a second visit to Beverley on Monday 11th May. This visit will only involve those members of the community who are contacted personally by the students. We look forward to the outcome of their study of Beverley and any possibilities they may see for future tourism planning.

Wheatbelt Tour

With Councils' application to the Federal National Stronger Regions Infrastructure Fund pending, a delegation of Councillors and Staff has undertaken a Wheatbelt tour to better inform the process of moving the proposed Multipurpose Community Centre concept plans to working drawings. Also inspected were various new swimming pool complexes. With our aging pool infrastructure this is potentially an exciting future project for our community. A visit to Slater homestead in Goomalling on the first morning provided an unplanned outcome which saw delegates continuing to observe and discuss heritage interpretation throughout the trip. Congratulations to staff on their organisation to facilitate so much into the two (tiring!) days.

Easter in Beverley

Beverley once again had hundreds of visitors over the Easter break. Congratulations and thank you to everyone involved with the bustling weekend.

Hi All

Well by the time you all read this the historic stables here at Avondale would have had a huge facelift by scoring a new roof. The old lab office will have new guttering as well. The stables look fantastic with all the wood getting a bit of TLC as well. Comet and Robbie would like to thank the guys from Applied Building Conservation Training who came all the way from South Australia for this job and to the work team from Wooroloo Prison your work is highly appreciated. And the boys love the new upgrades to their stables. They think I need to send them a bag of carrots as a thank you gift, I'm thinking maybe a carrot cake instead.

During April we saw Avondale Farm open again to the public with 2 open weekends, it was good to see lots of kids running around and having a peek in the animal nursery and families enjoying the facilities. Massive thanks to Bronwyn Nutting and Mark Atkinson from Alnwick Clydesdales for bringing over Mikayla and Lady on Easter Monday your jokes and educational lessons are highly valuable to us all.

This month also saw changes to the AFPA committee (Avondale Farm Project Association) I would like to say a massive thanks to Mrs Sue Martin who stepped down as the AFPA President. Robbie, Comet and I thank you for all your hard work in supporting Avondale and hope to see you around still in the future. The boys would love to say a big welcome to Mrs Jo Johnson who took over as the new president of this wonderful organisation and hope you enjoy the position. Also welcome to the new committee. If you would like to join or become involved we would love to see more new faces about.

As usual Mitch, Kath, Rachel and also Kia and young Erin have been keeping both the horses amused and intrigued with lots of fun activities and educational workouts. And of course lots of apples and left over carrots from all the workers (these two have sure been spoilt and loved every minute of it).

Well that's all for now we hope people come out during the open weekends to take a look at the stable upgrades as I'm sure you will all be impressed.

Many thanks all

BEVERLEY PATCHWORKERS AND QUILTERS

We are all looking forward to our first 'special' day on the last week in April when we will spend time dyeing our own fabric. Then the challenge will be to make something from the dyed fabric using our cutting machine. With this we can cut many different shapes which can then be used to make a block. This is only limited by our imagination. Hopefully some of the results can be published in the next Blarney.

Three ladies went along to the Friendship Day at Baskerville on Saturday April 18th, where they all enjoyed many things about the day. It was reported how lovely and plentiful was the food for morning and afternoon tea. There were many items shown for the 'show and tell' segment of the day, where people can show their skills and share ideas with others.

Ladies also enjoyed being able to make some purchases of more material. Quilters can never have TOO MUCH fabric. Our passion is to take a perfectly good piece of fabric, cut it up into pieces and stitch it up again!

The photo below shows a typical day at Avondale where we all come together to engage in our passion. Sewing machines can be heard stitching away making quilts for various purposes.

We are always willing to welcome new people, so if you would like to join us or even just come out and watch what we do, feel free. We meet each Tuesday morning from 10am. Bring your lunch and enjoy a day of fun and sharing.

For more information please feel free to call our President, Catharina Turle on 9646 0876 or Secretary, Janice Sherwood on 9646 0796.

CWA Beverley Branch Country Women's Association

Last month we did not hold a formal meeting but enjoyed morning tea together at the Country Kitchen.

Some of our members were away and we will welcome them home at our next meeting and look forward to hearing of their great holiday experiences.

Our next meeting will be held at the CWA rooms on Thursday 14th May at 10.00am with morning tea followed by our normal monthly meeting.

We will also enjoy the usual "Bring and Share" light lunch to give us the opportunity of catching up on the month's happenings and holiday stories.

Visitors and prospective new members are always welcome.

Beverley Historical Society

We had a good attendance at our last meeting with only 3 apologies.

The launch of our WWI exhibition went very well. Unfortunately, some of the Perth people were unable to attend. We held the launch outdoors and it was a lovely afternoon weather wise. Hon. Mia Davies MLA gave a very nice speech as did Shire President Dee Ridgway. Dee officially opened the exhibition for us. Thanks go to Dee, Mia and also to Shire CEO Steve Gollan for his attendance.

Over Easter we had a lot of visitors to view the exhibition. Most of them also took the opportunity to look around the rest of the museum. All the comments have been very favourable. Because there is plenty to read, some people have said that they will be back as it is too much to absorb in one visit. The HACC ladies and men come for a visit. Also a small bus group of pensioners/seniors from Pingelly.

Thanks must go to the ladies of the Garden Club for the clean up they did in the Dead Finish garden. It was a job well done. We know there were only a few of you that turned up to do the work. It is a credit to you.

The Dead Finish Museum is located on the corner of Morrison Street and Hunt Road and is open on Sundays 11.00am - 3.00pm. On other days it is open by request.

The next meeting of The Historical Society will be held on Monday 11 May at 2.00pm at the Dead Finish.

Beverley Garden and Tree Society

Fifteen members gathered in the dining room of the Dead Finish as the meeting room was being utilized by another community group and we enjoyed the exhibits as we had our meeting.

A very successful Easter stall was reported on and thank you to all members who contributed. Thank you to the CRC staff for their help. Easter weekend certainly saw our little town bulging at the seams and a good time was had by all. Not to mention the money raised for various local activities and projects.

Just as a by the way, the sight that gave me the most pleasure was to drive past the recreation grounds very early on Sunday and seeing several little children playing tennis in bare feet and their pyjamas.

As I type this article the rain is falling, albeit lightly, so the planting season is with us. All brassicas (cabbage, brussel sprouts, cauliflower) broad beans, peas, mustards, onions and spinach can go in now. Remember to feed the bed before you put in your plants.

It is also time to think of what can be coddled for the Show in August. The theme is sustainability so tough things will be better.

Almost all flowers can go in now. Some that come to mind are alyssum, cineraria, everlastings, poppies, hollyhocks, nigella, pansy and stock.

Next month the garden club will be going on their bus trip to Dawson's. Members are asked to book their seats as the bus holds a finite number! Number to ring is 9646 0800.

The date of the outing is 5th May and the bus will leave at 9am from the Dead Finish. Cost to be worked out but it is always very reasonable.

Happy gardening to all

Consumer alert: Viral Do Not Call Register email

Viral email with misinformation on release of mobile numbers to telemarketers

The ACMA is reminding consumers that the viral email warning that 'mobile numbers will be made public' is a hoax.

The email started circulating around Australia in 2009 and tells consumers that mobile numbers will shortly be made public and that you will be charged for telemarketing calls that you receive.

Although the message refers to the Australian Do Not Call Register, the email appears to have originated from North America a number of years ago. The reference to being charged for receiving calls arises from a different charging regime in the USA where mobile phone users are often charged for calls that they receive. This charging regime does not apply in Australia.

The Do Not Call Register provides Australians with the ability to opt out of receiving most unsolicited telemarketing calls, and marketing faxes. Australians can put their telephone or fax numbers on the:

Do Not Call Register
at www.donotcall.gov.au or by calling 1300 792 958.

Do Not Call Register

The Australian Do Not Call Register has strong mechanisms to protect the privacy of registrants. Telemarketers and Fax marketers are only able to check whether a telephone number they wish to call or fax is registered or not. Registered numbers are never directly provided. Telemarketers and Fax marketers that make calls or send faxes to numbers on the Do Not Call Register face significant financial penalties.

A version of the email is reproduced as displayed on the right

CRC NEWS

The renovations are complete and we are settling back in, and the floors look and feel great! This means that LEGO Club returns as of Monday 04 May at 2.45pm - 3.45pm. The club is a great way for kids to socially interact and use their building skills to create masterpieces. $2 per session which includes a delicious afternoon tea.

The Management Committee are pleased to announce that Ashleigh Ugle will be continuing her traineeship for another year at the centre. Ashleigh has been a valuable asset to the centre and the community. After she completes her Certificate II in Business in June, she intends to study Certificate III in Business and Administration. Congratulations Ashe.

Due to the lack of volunteers, the CRC Management Committee and Shire of Beverley have decided to move the Beverley Visitors Centre and merchandise to the Beverley CRC, which means that we will be able to offer visitors and tourists to our town a shopfront that is open 5 - 6 days a week. The Aeronautical Museum will still be open by request.

Seniors Fall Prevention luncheon was a great success with 20 people in attendance. Elouise Hawkins the Health Promotion Officer, Avon and Central Wheatbelt Primary Health Service gave the group some valuable hints and tips on falls prevention and managing medicines. The newest development in this area is that through our local Medical Practice you can arrange a home visit from an accredited pharmacist to visit and review your medicines. Karen Hansen gave a short talk on the importance of Vitamin D intake. Thanks must go to the Beverley Country Kitchen for the lovely lunch.

Station Gallery

Easter Art Exhibition

What a month! To add to the festival atmosphere of Easter in Beverley, the 47th Annual Art Purchase Exhibition succeeded in having a frenzy of eager buyers coming and going the Town Hall with the amazing total of 58 works sold.

This year's head judge Anne Errey was joined by Jennifer Sadler who were suitably impressed to be part of such a well organised exhibition. To quote from an email following the judging from Anne: 'Your enterprise should be winning accolades for not-for-profit business or whatever category it would fit.' The official wine and cheese opening attracted a good crowd who were treated to words by Anne Erre, a professional artist across many platforms with a lifetime of curatorial and tertiary educational experience.

To add to the Shire Collection the Gallery purchased the inaugural Beverley Art Prize painting - an exquisite acrylic work by Christine Baker titled 'Requiem' which is on display at the Shire for those wishing to see. 'Man's Best Friend' painted by Jos Coufreur was the outright winner of the popular vote (public choice) award.

Thankyou

To all our sponsors as without you we couldn't present such substantial prizes to attract the calibre of artists we have come to expect. To all who visited the Exhibition whether buying art or merely appreciating it, you make all the hard work worthwhile.

To the Art Gallery Committee (in particular Kathryn McLean as secretary and also Amanda McLean as treasurer) and our many helpers who so willingly set up the lights and stands, unpacked the paintings and helped with the hanging, decorated the hall with flowers, worked the sound system, man the exhibition, and then packed it all up again, THANK YOU.

Easter Art Raffle

The lovely oil painting donated by Pat Lane (Best Local Artist 2014) and framed by Chris and Ruth Baker of York was won by Denise Strange. Now, as Marion Alexander has won the prize of best Local artist 2015 we look forward seeing a painting by her to raffle at next year's exhibition. Congratulations Marion!

A full report of exhibition winners is included elsewhere in this edition of the Blarney.

Artist-in-Residence

Luis Fuentes was so thrilled with his time spent in Beverley that it has reaffirmed his desire to migrate to Western Australia. His residency culminated in farewell drinks at East End Studio where Luis had spent the month of April painting madly to replace the paintings he sold at the Easter Exhibition. The free space in Marlene's shop/studio was warmly welcomed and we thank Marlene again for her generosity.

We are hoping that the necessary restorations to the Station building will be completed during the winter months and the Artist-in-Residency programme can resume as was before the building was closed last year. Meanwhile, we welcome back Charlotte O'Shea who is about to commence the Artist-in-Residency Grants Programme at the Beverley School for all of terms two and three. Charlotte will be residing at the Shire house in Dawson Street for two nights per week, and Mandy Evans has decided to come back to town and share the accommodation, and is happy to paint again in the greenroom of the Platform Theatre and welcomes anyone wishing to see her work or just wanting to say hello.

For further information on residencies check with Artist in Residence Coordinator Marylou Hutchinson on 9647 1027 / 0427 085 511 or email: hutchinson@wn.com.au

Artists in Residence programme for 2015:

May/June: Charlotte O'Shea - AiR at School, and Mandy Evans

July/August: Charlotte O'Shea - AiR at School, and possibly Janet Pfeiffer - mixed media artist during school holidays.

September/October: Charlotte O'Shea - AiR at School

October: Sally Watts & 2 or 3 other visual artists, also depending on accommodation (postponed to April next year)

November: Hilly Coufreur - visual artist

December: Sue Brook-Roberton - visual artist

Beverley Station Singers

From all accounts the Station Singers sang beautifully at the Broun/Atkinson wedding on April 18th at the Station, welcoming the bride on her father's arm as they entered the garden under the clock arch to the sounds of 'The Wedding Song' ('There is Love'). Then Kelly Newton-Wordsworth played guitar and sang her own song 'Wings of the Night' during signing of the register in the gazebo, and finally, the singers joined Kelly with the jaunty 'Irish Blessing' as the newly-weds joined their family and friends. Great stuff!

Our next 'gig' will be singing at the Anzac Day service. Kelly will not be joining the rest of the singers as she has been invited to perform at the Supreme Court Gardens on Anzac Day singing her ballad 'Lest We Forget'. She will be supported by a 100-strong choir under the direction of Perth Modern School choral conductor Celia Christmass. We are indeed privileged to have Kelly work with our group on a monthly basis.

Anyone interested in joining the singing group contact Tracey Fleay- Mob: 0409 481 029 or E: traceyfleay@hotmail.com

Platform Theatre

On Tuesday 11th April Beverley Station Arts was fortunate to obtain the services of garden guru Sabrina Hahn to give her expert advice on the type of trees best suited to shade the Platform Theatre. This has been a rather drawn out process of deciding where and what to plant and we are now able to go ahead planting. Many thanks to the Pepper family for allowing some planting on their side of the fence.

There's nothing really to report this month regarding events the Platform Theatre, however, there was an event at the Station that deserves space - that of the wedding ceremony of my daughter Louise Broun to Chad Atkinson on Saturday 18th April. It was a lovely ceremony on the most perfect day with the Station Singers filling the air with their sound from gazebo/bandstand. I wish to thank wholeheartedly the singers for giving up their time to perform, and the efforts of both Steve Ramm and Tim Kilpatrick for their expertise in producing such sound, and also, a special mention to Valda Morton and Sandy Shaw for maintaining the garden during the summer months to be at its ultimate beauty for the wedding. Thank you all again. These images have been provided by Jill Broun.

The next event at the Platform Theatre will not be until the afternoon of Saturday 12th September when we host the annual Country Choir Bash.

Calendar of Events:

September: Saturday 12th - Country Choir Bash

November: Saturday 7th - Rolling Stones and Rock Montage Tribute

December Saturday 19th Family Christmas Concert

With Easter behind us take some time to consider what tasks you need to complete over the next few weeks. The darker mornings and shorter days can make it difficult to stay motivated; a task list can help combat this by allowing you to plan what to do first.

If you are in an area which has received germinating rainfalls, make sure you are ready to control your weeds. Targeting weeds when they are small makes them easier and cheaper to remove or chemically control. If relying on herbicide to control weeds, remember to always read labels and consider whether you need to change the herbicide to prevent chemical resistance.

Check fences to ensure they are in good condition especially if you are expecting lambs or other newborn stock. By fixing or replacing damaged fences you will ensure your animals don't escape.

Remember any animals born on your property need to be correctly identified. Cattle born on your property need a white NLIS tag before leaving for the saleyards, as well as a brand or earmark and a waybill. Lambs need to have a sky blue ear tag. Be organised to avoid having animals returned. For help, call the Department of Agriculture and Food Brands Office on 9780 6207.

Cooler weather and new growth can see a significant rise in pest insects. Keep a very close eye on newly germinating pastures and crops and be prepared to control insects (like Red Legged Earth Mite (RLEM)) or they can destroy the tiny new seedlings.

Autumn is a key time for nutrient uptake for avocados as the root system is very strong and preparing the tree for winter and the development of flowers for the spring fruit set. This is also a good time to collect your leaves for nutrient analysis.

Pick last crops of pumpkins and sweet potatoes and store undercover. Cut pumpkin stem longer than 10cm as they will store for longer. Also pick last crops of capsicums, eggplants, tomatoes and zucchini. Pick and process olives.

Prepare your veggie patch for next season's plants by replacing nutrients. A good quality manure should be incorporated into the soil.

After cool damp nights or following rainfall check for snails, if you don't want to use pellets you can make homemade beer traps.

If you didn't make it to one of the events we attended in April, you can find us at the Gidgegannup Small Farm Field Day on the 24th May. For more information on other small landholder events, visit our SLIS Facebook page (facebook.com/DAFWAsmalllandholders) or website (agric.wa.gov.au/slis). Until next time, Jodie.

Beverley Art Exhibition Winners & Judges Comments 1st April 2015

Overall $5,000

Winner: 205 "Requiem" Christine Baker

The judges chose this work for its originality, subtlety, artistic competence and evocation of landscape, of township, buildings and roofs, pathways, trees and symbols. It's layered crosshatching creates a spatial possibility where one imagines a plethora of elements emerging the more one explores the work. One senses loss indicated by the heaviness of a sky in flux such as in Indian miniatures of the Mughal era while this is juxtaposed by the lightness and subtlety of overlaid colour and complex motifs suggesting change and growth of spirit.

Section 1 – Dry Media $1,000

Winner – 60 "In The Stillness" Julie Silvester

This pastel is beautifully rendered, with an atmospheric perspective that takes the viewer on an estuarine or lakeside journey at a particular time of day. In transporting us we sense the peace and loveliness of this place.

HC – 81 "Wooleen Quarters" Debra Scidone

Section 2 – Aqua-Based Media $1,000

Winner – 103 "The Birds" Sandy Robertson

There is a looseness and freshness of handling in this work that evokes elemental forces, vicissitudes that use light to manifest time space, birds, and atmospheres.

This watercolour and or gouache are handled beautifully in this work.

HC – 112 "Tree Texture" Jillian Roberts

HC – 106 "Early Evening – Fremantle" Cass Gartner

"The Birds" by Sandy Robertson

Section 3 – Oils $1,000

Winner - 27 "River Reflections" Nada Murphy

The judges found this work had a freshness and liveliness that comes from not overworking the canvas. Since the canvas is not overworked the eye of the viewer fills in the imaginative water reflection with its subtle movement, composition and palette.

HC – 5 "Season Of Contentment" Greg Tohill

HC – 15 "Hollow Wings" Kieran Ingram

We acknowledge this work as a powerful still-life with many a story to tell yet it is such an innocent, parochial subject. We don't know if the coat has been there so long moths inhabit its fabric or whether the owner indeed still exists. What we do sense is the humanity and humility of this simple subject.

Section 4 – Acrylic $1,000

Winner – 251 "Back Paddock" Rona Harrison

This work gives us a feel for the use of acrylic and the addition of mediums giving us a perspective through a bucolic subject. One sees the interaction of humankind in farming and the necessity to work within the laws of nature and its immensity.

HC – 226 "Rainbow Serpent" Terry Thompson

Beautifully executed story of country.

Section 5 – Mixed Media Painting $1,000

Winner – 158 "Silk" Leesa Padget

This work gives us a true exploration of mixed media. From the entomological study of silk-moths to the pitri dish of science, ideas embedded in text, collage, stencil and all manner of layered paraphernalia we are able to engage with the metamorphosis of the creature that is the silk process.

HC – 165 "Paper Barks Along The Lake"

A very sensitive and beautifully handled use of materials.

HC – 179 "Australian Made Form Imported Ingredients" Melinda Brezman

Section 6 – Printmaking $1,000

Winner – 141 "Tukik Kembali" Vanessa Curley

The use of Chine-collé, the addition of another layer of paper to make the turtle shells, along with exquisitely pin holed background and foreground gives this work an Oriental feel redolent of fine Japanese printmaking.

Section 7 – Small Works $500

Winner – 151 "Rainforest" Ileana Rozitis

This delicate artisanship of part jewel, part illustration, part design gives us a window to 'the finer' abundance.

Section 1-7

A - Young Artists 18 – 25 yrs

The judges felt that this section was not well enough represented to give an award on this occasion.

HC – 215 “Just Out The Back” Ashlyn Ridgway

B – Agricultural Art Award $100

Winner – 64 “Smoko” Leesa Padget

A beautifully considered work and presentation. ‘Bluey’ looks a bit peeved at not ‘being on the job’ and the environment is one that many in this community would relate with very well.

HC 29 “High Beam Roller Coaster” Lyn Howieson

We love this atmospheric use of mono-colour evoking a night driving vibe.

C – Best Local Artist

Winner – 86 “Boulder Bay, King Island” Marion Alexander

This work is somewhat awkward but this very quality gives it animation - makes it rather interesting. The sky is ruptured as though about to move into another dimension. The rocks rendered delightfully at the base have been roughly hewn with the pastel to evoke light and it all adds up to giving the work a compelling drama.

HC – 166 “Sorry Not A Winner” Gaye Redding

This lovely small work tells a sad but very human story of hope and vulnerability. Beautifully conceived and executed.

Section 8

13-17 yr-olds

Winner – 264 “Owl” Cahles Lewis

Feel the predator!

HC – 258 “The Little Engine That Could” Taneika Jeffries

Lovely use of tone and detail in the smoke and engine.

7 – 12 yr-olds

Winner – 271 “The Storm” Oliver Aynsley

Delightful innocence!

HC – 270 “Hidden Windows” Lucy Osborne

HC – 273 “Road With A Sunset” Ella Cooke

*Agricultural Art Award
“Smoko”

Recipe Corner

Supplied by Valerie Gunsch

E:healthylivingbev@westnet.com.au

We all know that garlic is a great winter/cold/flu fighter and since the garlic is very soon shooting to be planted in the garden, here is a recipe to use up all the left over garlic bulbs!! This is an original recipe from the Middle East. You can use it for meat, kebabs, you can use it for marinades, just add a tea spoon to your dressings and if you are really looving your garlic, eat it on a piece of your Sourdough Rye Bread. This is a threat and can bring tears to your eyes. This might be for the joy to be alive or because it is really strong.

Garlic Sauce – toom or toum (this is the Arabic Word for garlic.)

Ingredients:

1 cup of peeled garlic

¼ tsp. salt

Juice of one lemon

1 ¼ cup of olive oil

Peel 1 cup of garlic, make sure there are no green shoots inside, they need to be removed otherwise your garlic sauce will be bitter. Place the garlic gloves in your food processor.

Add the salt and mince the garlic for about 30 seconds. Add ¼ cup of olive oil to the minced garlic, process for another 30 seconds. With the machine running, add very slowly the olive oil, similar to making mayonnaise, very very slowly, between the oil add a tablespoon of the lemon juice at a time and continue with the olive oil. Let the machine run and incorporate all of the oil and lemon juice. Take your time to do this; it is very important that the oil and the lemon juice is slowly mixed. When you have finished adding all, stop the machine. The result is a creamy to whitish thick sauce, wonderful strong tasting. I usually make a big batch of it to use up all the garlic and fill up ice cube trays with it, cover with foil and place it in the freezer. Every few days I take out a piece of the frozen toom/toum and use it.

Day Centre Happenings

We welcome a new volunteer, Verna to our group and along with our other volunteers, thank her for her support.

Ladies of the Day Centre have been busy making poppies for The Historical Society and The Beverley RSL for the town's displays in recognition of the 100th anniversary of the ANZAC conflicts in Gallipoli and the Western Front.

We had a visit to the Day Centre by Shane Negus who delivered a very interesting power point presentation of his research of Beverley veterans and our day centre clients have visited the Dead Finish Museum and viewed the extensive display by The Beverley Historical Society.

Many hands have been busy making footy rugs, beanies and novelty items ready for sale and raffles at "AUSTRALIA'S BIGGEST MORNING TEA" which will be held on Friday 15th May at Beverley District High School. Funds raised to be donated to the Cancer Council of WA.

We have had visits to the Day Centre by guest speakers and musicians and we will be entertained by the Beverley Line Dancers this month.....We continue to do short trips to local attractions and places of interest and have been on longer trips to Pingelly (picnic lunch), Wickiepin (Albert Facey House, Meckering (Camera Museum) and York (Chinese Restaurant).

Anyone who is eligible is more than welcome to join the fun at Beverley Centre-based Day Care, contact the Health Service on 9646 3200.

Centre Based Day Centre hours are Tuesday and Wednesday 10.00am - 2.30pm

On the 13th May at 10.00am The Beverley Health Service will be holding a VOUNTEERS' MORNING TEA in appreciation of the hours all volunteers so selflessly donate to the people of Beverley. This will be held at the St John Ambulance Hall.

The story behind

'The Last Post'

If any of you have ever been to an ANZAC Day service or a military funeral, you would have heard the haunting song, 'The Last Post'. It's the song that usually gives us a lump in our throat and tears in our eyes. The following story brings new meaning to it and it is something that everyone should know.

Reportedly, it all began in 1862 during the American Civil War, when Union Army Captain Robert Ellicombe was with his men near Harrison's landing in Virginia. The Confederate Army was on the other side of the narrow strip of land.

During the night, Captain Ellicombe heard the moaning of a soldier who lay severely wounded on the field of battle. Not knowing if it was a Union or Confederate soldier, the Captain decided to risk his life and bring the stricken man back for medical attention. Crawling on his stomach through gunfire, the Captain reached the injured soldier and began pulling him back towards his encampment.

When the Captain finally reached his own lines, he discovered it was actually a Confederate soldier, but the soldier was dead...

The Captain lit a lantern and suddenly caught his breath and went numb with shock. In the dim light he saw the face of a soldier... it was his own son. The boy had been studying music in the South when the war broke out. Without telling his father, the boy enlisted in the Confederate Army.

The following morning, heartbroken, the father asked permission of his superiors to give his son a full military burial, despite his enemy status. His request was only partially granted. The Captain asked if he could have a group of Army band members play a funeral dirge for his son at the funeral. The request was turned down since the soldier was Confederate. But out of respect for the father, they did say they could give him just one musician.

The Captain chose a bugler. He asked the bugler to play a series of musical notes he had found on a piece of paper in the pocket of the dead youth's uniform. The wish was granted.

This is how the haunting melody we now know as 'The Last Post', used at military funerals and services worldwide was born.

The words for 'The Last Post'

Day is done
Gone the sun
From the lakes
From the hills
From the sky
All is well
Safely rest
God is nigh

Fading light
Dims the sight
And a star
Gems the sky
Gleaming bright
From afar
Drawing nigh
Falls the night

Thanks and praise
For our days
Neath the sun
Neath the stars
Neath the sky
As we go
This we know
God is nigh

Remember those lost and harmed while serving for their Country.

Also remember those who have served and returned,
and remember those presently serving in the Armed Forces

CRANA Aboriginal Corp. Inc.

On NITV programmes - Awaken: What does it feel and to call yourself an Aboriginal or Indigenous?

Feedback from most elders and the audience is; the general consensus is as to how one can identify with their own culture. Identity: is the most important part of indigenous culture. Some identify themselves as: -First people
- Indigenous
- Aboriginal
- First Nation.

No matter what, one must never forget their culture or where their roots came from. Sometimes others may question your Aboriginality, as to your colour or do you have a certificate to prove your Aboriginality. Now in most cases as per government requirements this is a must, therefore to receive certain benefits, an indigenous person who has 60,000 years of culture and country has to prove to Australia as to who they are and where did they come from.

ABORIGINATILY

As part of Crana's role, from time to time we have to issue Certificates of Aboriginality, due to government requirements

Indigenous Communities Closing Down: It is expected that the government will be closing down 150 communities (12,500) men, women and children. Up to date there has been no plans to house these soon to be homeless people. The question is if there is no alternate accommodation, they will be sleeping under trees, in parks and on the streets in the northern towns. Australia today, one would wonder how this desperate situation could arise on our lucky country and for who? Where is this so called lucky generation.

Hello Everyone

As I write this Blarney (sat at home, in my kitchen, dogs wanting to go out for a walk but they can't yet because I forget to write this months edition) I can say that my theory was and still is right; my brother's gone home so the weather has turned nice again. I'm not saying the rain wasn't welcome but he's like Crowded House that lad (and if anyone can guess what that's a reference to they win a slice of Jane's wonderful chocolate cake).

Heavy Heart

It's with a bit of a heavy heart I find myself writing this Blarney. As everyone is no doubt aware we have been touched by incidents out in Sandstone recently involving members of our community. Out of respect for everyone involved I won't go into tremendous detail but please respect those involved in this incident, offer them goodwill and best wishes, not opinions. It's a tough time and one that isn't helped by a number of rumours I've heard in town. The press will always use terminology and phrases which aren't helpful. They have a job to do and so do we so in that respect I'd ask for tact and diplomacy rather than reacting to something you read in the papers or see on the TV. Thanks everyone.

Crime

There's been a few more incidents of wire cutting around the outer edges of town. Due to some fantastic information we have received from various people in and around town we are building up a picture of possible offenders and are continuing to investigate these incidents fully. Other than that we've been steady with a few crimes of a minor nature reported to us, nothing overly serious but enough to keep us on our toes.

Please keep an eye out for scams, particularly email ones. Don't click on anything you think might be iffy, instead either contact us (see more below) or contact Scamnet on http://www.scamnet.wa.gov.au/scamnet/About_WA_ScamNet-Contact_us.htm.

I've been informed that I've 'won' in excess of $5000000 in the last few days according to my inbox. Don't you have to buy a ticket to win a lottery? I haven't bought one. Somehow I don't believe them.

Technology

If anyone has been trying to contact us on our station email address, Beverley.Police.Station@police.wa.gov.au and haven't been getting responses, we haven't suddenly become rude or shy. Apparently we now have a new 'shared folder system' and that's where all our emails were going to. It's a re-occurring theme with me in that I haven't got a clue what I'm talking about when it comes to such gobbledegook but I'm assured now that I've followed all the instructions (they were sent to me in a style that only 3 year olds and Police Sergeants can understand) that the system should be working again. We'll see.....

Grrrrrr

That's the sound of me being angry. Remember a few Blarneys ago I mentioned rumours, gossip and the devil that is Facebook? Well, it's come back to haunt me. I've been trying to think of a nice way of saying this but I've failed so I'm going to be blunt; some people need to grow up, need their heads banging together and get on with their lives in as adult way as is possible. If someone says something to you, either personally (very rare, people are cowards) or via a 3rd party why not be the bigger person and walk away? Is it really worth you getting into trouble because of something that was said about you? Do you need to go round and bash them because they were idiotic in what they said? If it is then ask yourself this question, who's the idiot? The one who said it (yes they are) or the one who reacted and ended up getting a criminal record out of it (yes they are). Walk away, laugh, carry on with your lives, trust me, you'll feel better about it. Oh, and if those doing the threatening are reading this (or having it read to them) then please, once again, stop threatening to 'get people up to sort them out'. That didn't work in 3rd grade, it sure as hell won't work in adult life.

A perfect example of how to behave with idiots is in the film Rocky II. I can see yourself asking "where's he going with this?". Well, hear me out. In one scene Rocky takes a water bucket from another boxer who spits into said bucket but misses and some goes on him. The other boxer, who has been taunting him throughout, taunts our hero some more. Rocky says "Oops". The bully boxer says "is that all you can say, oops?" Rocky pauses, smiles and walks away. It's a classic put down. He was the better person. The rest is history, at the end he wins the fight (not with the taunter, with the bloke out of Predator) and goes on to make 37 more Rocky films, most of them rubbish.

That's all for now

Ok, I'll have to go now as the dogs are getting impatient. One's looking at his lead and the other one, well, let's just say he NEEDS to go as he's telling me via the sense of smell and he's looking at the yellow bags.....

Please, if someone taunts you, calls you a name or just behaves in a childish manner remember Rocky, smile and walk away, but never, ever, get talked into making a film called The Expendables 4, it just won't work.

Take care everyone, until next time (on the last minute as usual).

Ian and Nick.

Following on from the success of her first novel, 'Secret's Mothers Keep', Author Linda J. Bettenay shares the inspiration and stories behind her recently released book.

'Wishes for Starlight' tells a story of injustice for Aboriginal people living in Australia in the 1900s through the fictional tale of a boy called Starlight. This astounding tale has been passed down from Linda's father's and grandfather's memories and is anchored in the Perth hills.

After her amazing tour last year, Linda was very keen to return to Beverley and she is coming back

Court Appearance/Matters

For all such matters, try to seek legal aid/ advice, either by phone or by appointment, whenever it is possible. I will contact a legal community service on your behalf, with a view to make an appointment for you, in your presence and with your authority. I have been advised that on court matters, if legal advice is not available the Legal Centres suggest to seek an adjournment. i.e. request from the Magistrate that you wish to seek legal advice. TV reports tell us that Legal Aid to Magistrates Court are not being cut back. Always check to see if you do qualify.

Homeless people/Families living below the poverty line. Once again, TV and radio tell us that as on 21/04/2015, there are 1 million plus home less people and 1.6 million families living below the poverty line in Australia. i.e. earn less than $640 per week. One should take note that while the millionaires and billionaires are increasing by the month, this is happening in Australia.

Department of Human Services - Centrelink

While all tis is happening i.e. well over 2.6 million that are homeless and in poverty and another 1 million who are disadvantaged or have a disability. Our Federal Minister of Human Services was talking tough on ABC TV and other channels. She was referring to Centrelink was now monitoring Facebook and gathering information on recipients, as to who is single, living together, claiming single parents for children etc. i.e. challenging status of couples/individuals. The minister went on to say "All these cases eventually end up in court and end up in a prison sentence". Once again clamping down on single parents who have little children? One must remember before Centrelink takes a recipient to court, they would have to provide solid evidence such as camera footage of movements, documents etc. Most investigators have 1.5 km long range cameras, this maybe how such evidence is gathered.

In closing, most welfare, religious and community organisations, have stated that instead of the authorities getting tough and cutting down on welfare payments, in some sectors it should be increased and make homeless a priority and needs to be addressed and acted upon immediately.

Healthy Body – Healthy Mind

By Valerie Gunsch

Dip. C.N.C. Mac. H.V. P.P.

Clinical Nutritionist, Profemme Practitioner

Email: healthylivingbev@westnet.com.au

This month we are talking about detoxing or cleansing. What happens in your body during a 'cleanse' or 'detox'. Juice cleanses, colon cleanses, fruit detoxes, sugar detoxes, we have all seen these things, but do they actually work? What are they supposed to do? Let's take a look at the science behind the fad.

Cleanses and detoxes are trendy, popular, and promise to clear out nasty toxins from your body and make you healthier. It is a tall promise. There are tons of different cleanses and detoxes. For the most part, a cleanse and a detox are the same thing. They are typically used interchangeably and have the same basic goals: to remove 'harmful' things from your body. Sometimes, they aim to target a specific organ like the liver or colon, and supposedly, detoxing makes you feel better. There's no specific definition of a detox or cleanse, but they often involve limiting your food intake to pressed juice, avoiding specific types of food, or drinking a concoction of juices that supposedly rid your body of toxins. These supposed toxins are rarely described by cleansers in detail, but generally referred to as "poisons" or "pollutants." In the medical field, toxins can refer to just about anything, from alcohol, to foods, to medicines, to asbestos. Detoxing can also refer to treatment for drug addiction, but that is very different, here we are specifically discussing these food-and-drink cleanses.

What happens in your body when you are on a cleanse.

We are all aware that fruit and vegetables are good for us, so following that logic suggests that a diet of just fruit and vegetables must be super healthy, right? Right?? Not really. If you drink nothing but juice for a week, you will lose weight, but it is because you are not eating, not because your body is "detoxing". Water is stored in your muscles with glycogen. When you eat a low calorie diet, you use up those glycogen stores, and lose the water weight with it. You'll gain that water weight right back when you return to your normal diet. You are also missing out on all those other vital nutrients like fat, fibre, and protein. In fact, some cleanses suggest that you avoid exercise when you are on them because your caloric intake is so low which can lead to fatigue and dizziness. After a few days, your body is basically running on fumes, and without protein your body might start to break down muscle tissue instead. Likewise, the lack of fibre in your diet tends to impact the function of your large intestine, which might explain why people tend to describe their gut feelings on a juice cleanse as similar to the stomach flu. Most importantly, a juice cleanse doesn't do anything that your body doesn't already do on its own. Our bodies are already pretty good at removing toxins. If they weren't, and you needed a yearly detox, we'd all probably be dead. Leaving our bodies alone they will remove toxins on a daily basis thanks to the kidneys, lungs, and liver. The whole point of going to the bathroom is to flush out toxins! Most of the cleanses and detoxes aren't dangerous, they can cause some problems. Since juices don't include much fibre, the body ends up absorbing more fructose sugar, which as we all know, isn't good for you. The good news on depriving yourself is that it takes months to get any serious vitamin deficiencies. Most of these cleanses are probably stupid but not seriously harmful because all you are doing is restricting food for a few days. All of this is to say: the only thing a detox or juice cleanse actually does to your body is make you hungry and nutrient deprived for a few days. If you want to go ahead with a detox/cleansing be prepared before your cleanse, you will be better able to relax and enjoy and allow your body to go through its healing and detoxification process more effectively.

Tips to get ready for your cleanse

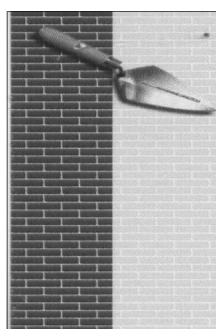

Clean and straighten up your environment. Get rid of old and unused items around your place. Find a good relaxation audio to make you feel calm; consider using a relaxing essential oil such as Sandalwood or Lavender oil, both are very relaxing. Avoid drinking tap water and opt instead for filtered or mineral water. Two days before starting your cleanse eat more whole fresh plant foods, fruits, vegetables, nuts and seeds especially the green vegetables, whether raw or cooked. Cut down on wheat, dairy, meat, caffeine (tea and coffee), sugar, salt and all processed food items. Avoid alcohol and nicotine. Go shopping and stock up on fresh organic fruits and vegetables as much as you can find. The evening before eat a light meal, such as a salad, a vegetable stir fry or a vegetable soup. Have a relaxing bath and go to bed early. Feel great that you are doing a wonderful thing for you. It is very important to come off your cleanse slowly. If not, you risk undoing all the good you have just done for your body. After a cleanse you often feel so much better, lighter and with a lot of mental clarity. You will likely have more energy, clearer skin and better digestion. So break your cleanse slowly. How you come off is almost as important as the cleanse itself. Continue for at least the first few days to drink hot lemon water and do your stretching/exercise in the mornings. Continue also to eat primarily vegetable based dishes and the more you eat them raw, and the more green leafy vegetables you can keep in your diet, the more beneficial it is for your body. Continue to drink 2 litres of water a day for at least the first few days. Eating heavy or unhealthy foods can be especially tempting now, but this is the time when you need to use your will and strength to come off it properly. It doesn't matter if you do a one day cleanse or a whole week the day after you stopped is the most important day to watch what you ingest. There, it is not very difficult to go for one day on a cleanse and depending how you feel afterwards you might consider changing your food intake to a bit more on the raw side. Next month we will cover straight juicing. I have a fact sheet for a one day detox plan. If you are interested you can email me to let me know.

Here is to a healthier YOU

BEVERLEY HISTORICAL SOCIETY'S
DEAD FINISH MUSEUM

'Remembering THEM' Exhibition Launch

31st March 2015

A group of people gathered in the garden of the Dead Finish Museum, Beverley, on Tuesday afternoon 31st March 2015, to remember the impact of the First World War on the local community. Almost one hundred years after some of Beverley's young men faced the horror of the battles at Gallipoli, descendants and other family members welcomed the opportunity to inspect the Beverley Historical Society's exhibition 'Remembering THEM'.

The Society focused on the 'THEM' in the exhibition's title and researched the names of people on Beverley's War Memorials as well as people active in the town and district throughout the duration of the war. Information was gathered from the websites of the Australian War Memorial and the National Archives of Australia, digitised copies of the local newspaper, the Beverley Times, local history publications and family knowledge.

This has resulted in display boards highlighting the soldiers who gave their lives and the places they are buried; those who returned and their lives post war; those who helped on the home front, the fundraising organisations they supported and the movies on offer at the Beverley Mechanic's Institute.

With the assistance of officers from the WA Museum and members of the RWAHS the exhibition features five professionally designed panels that give an overview of WW1 and its aftermath in WA, together with information specific to Beverley and district.

A secure showcase houses precious family keepsakes loaned to the Museum for the exhibition. These include medals, plaques and scrolls from soldiers who were killed 'over there'; and a diary, letters, postcards and gifts that were sent or brought home. The electronic showcase, the panels and a banner were provided with monies from Lotterywest.

The exhibition has transformed two rooms at the Dead Finish Museum with photographs, newspaper articles, prints, posters and other items of the period from the Museum's collection. There is also a continuous loop of images presented on a computer screen. All of this is complemented by the over 120 bright red poppies knitted by a group of locals.

The afternoon's program included a welcome from Society member, Di Smith, who acted as MC, and an explanation of the research from project convenor, Morag Whitney. Morag chose to highlight the stories of four of 'THEM': orphan Sydney Ignatius Campbell who died on the Somme; Richard Reeves Collard an 18 year old Aboriginal lad who needed his parent's permission to enlist; Jessie Christina Clifton the only woman on Beverley's war memorial; and Florence Susan Walker, an energetic woman who was very active in supporting the troops.

Central Wheatbelt MLA, Mia Davies, spoke about the importance of community then and now and Dee Ridgway, President, Shire of Beverley, completed the agenda by commenting on how the various local groups had worked together on this project, before declaring the 'Remembering THEM' exhibition launched.

The twenty eight people present then enjoyed a traditional country afternoon tea and a further chance to examine the exhibition. The Society received many compliments on our efforts and promises to come back again as there is such a lot to take in. 'Remembering THEM' is open all four days of Easter, Anzac Day afternoon and weekends until September 2015.

For more information about the school, visit our website!

Term One flew by, and we finished it off with a wonderful Easter Hat Parade for our youngest students. The children and their teachers take learning seriously, but have plenty of fun doing it. No wonder the Easter Bunny was so keen to visit and leave special treats behind.

Our Anzac Day assembly was a very special occasion, made especially meaningful through all the work the students have been doing in their History curriculum. As part of their studies, the students created some very authentic-looking war-time correspondence which helped bring home the reality and the brutality of war. Thank you to Mrs Shaw and the students for sharing some of their fabulous work.

Official reports came in this morn that Dr. /soldier John William Mackhurst 13th battalion (son), after found missing in action, was located lying approximately 7.5 kilometres from the official camp, shot down by machine gun fire, 15th July, 1916. We all grieve at his loss. Sympathy and deep regret from their Majesties the King and Queen and Commonwealth Government in loss that both she (Helen, Mother) and the Army feel of the death of this soldier.

Dear George,

It brings us both great joy to hear from you. We were relieved when we received your letter knowing you are alright. I really do regret letting you go. It must be awful. I hope you are ok. Please make sure that the nurses are treating your shoulder well. If something happens to you I could never forgive myself. Anyway, your father is very proud of you being part of the war effort, he says it takes real courage to go and participate in the war and that only real men are brave enough.

Everything on the farm is running smoothly. Your father says the crops are the best we've had in around four years! It's been alot quieter since you've been away, and yes, we made sure Alice feeds sarge well! We think about you always; every second of every minute of every hour. We miss you very much and hope to see you soon.

Your loving Mother

My loving family,

I would suppose that you have received correspondence regarding my being missing in action last week. I am delighted to be writing this letter to inform you that I am alive and recovering in the infirmary. I have a wound in my lower right leg which prevented me from walking. Fortunately a group of fellows from my regiment managed to get me to safety, however it took some time. My leg is healing well and they tell me I will be able to be moved in a few weeks.

I am looking forward to coming home to see you all. James might have to do all the jobs for me around the place until I get back on my feet. I also hope James is helping dad out on the farm plenty enough. I guess that shitting should be finished by time I am home so I will miss out on that. Give Charlie and Julie a pat for me, miss the bloody buggers sleeping on my feet.

Love to the family,
Rob

LISA WAY — Child Health Nurse

Lyme Disease Association of Australia

A Current Affair Lyme Disease Segment

Lyme was in the media spotlight again! On Thursday 9th April, A Current Affair (channel 9) hosted a segment about Lyme Disease and we're so grateful! Exposure on the trauma experienced by not only sufferer, but their entire family too. You may know that our Lyme Patient Survey showed that average time to diagnosis is 6 years, meaning almost all Lyme patients in Australia are chronic before they get diagnosed. Media like the ACA segment helps to change that.

The LDAA would like to highlight a few additional points:

- Not all Lyme patients experience the seizures that Amy and Amara endure.
- Lyme seizures are 'atypical' and thus are often labelled 'psychogenic' and seen as not real.
- The majority of Lyme patients experience 'invisible illness' which comes with it's own extensive set of challenges, including denial by medial professionals and lack of understanding from family and friends (no matter how well-meaning). The 'invisibly ill' Lyme patients are also fighting for their lives.

The LDAA is committed to supporting funding for progression of Lyme research in Australia simultaneous with recognition, protection of Lyme-treating doctors, reliable testing, affordable and knowledgeable treatment and public health prevention messages. HUGE thank you to the Lyme patients who got the ball rolling. If you missed the show, have a look at ACA9's website. Please take time to say thanks to #ACA9 on Facebook, Twitter or their site!

News straight from the broomstick!

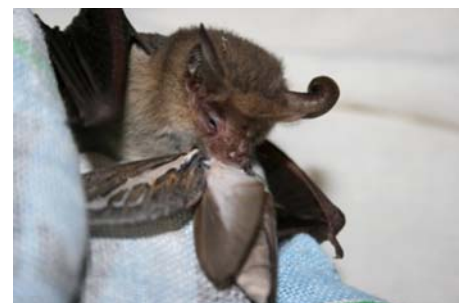

Hope everyone enjoyed the recent rains, I know I did. Some green coming through and my baby trees loved it. I recently had a bit of a worry with the disappearance of one of my kangaroo boys. His name is Skip and he has survived 2 very serious conditions as a joey. He was given to me from a member of the public who had kept him until he was almost dead from malnutrition, dehydration and hyperthermia. This poor little man was so ill my vet didn't think he would survive but we put him on the drip for 3 days and worked on rectifying his severe starvation, because his temperature was so low I couldn't feed him until his temperature was over 35 degrees as a hypothermic joey cannot metabolise the formula. We had him on artificial heat until he could maintain his own body temperature which took about 5 days. He survived this and went on to be a healthy young man and then he came down with tetanus as everyone knows this is a very serious condition and normally fatal lucky for him I realised his condition quickly and got him to the vets before the convulsions had started so we were able to save him. It is a very hard job to save them from this but Skip survived. Two near death experiences before he had even turned 18 months old we called him Skip the miracle man. He is now about 3 years old and so handsome but last Thursday night he disappeared; normally all my released kangaroos spend all night locked in my release pen and let out during the day. He always comes in for the night but he didn't show. This same night a professional kangaroo shooter was shooting over the river from my place and I know my wild mob go over there as it is very close to my place. This boy had over 1500 dollars in vet bills and had shown such love and happiness for life that I feel so sad and gutted to think he may have fallen victim to this callous industry where they decapitate or bludgeon little joeys to death after shooting their mothers. I love, care for, get medical attention and attempt to protect this mob of wild kangaroos they are not just nameless animals. I walk amongst them and would give my life to protect them but I feel powerless to help these guys. I am hoping to be able to protect this paddock from shooters but this is still work in progress and I will keep looking for Skip who may have been so frightened by the shooting that he is hiding out. I was terrified myself hearing the gun shots and my daughter who owns the house near the paddock had to calm her horses down because the spotlight was going in through her horse yard and into her house. She was terrified her horses could have been shot or injured trying to escape the spotlights and gun shots. The people leasing this paddock were very understanding about this situation. Thanks guys.

Another sad incident was a kangaroo hanging in a fence this young male was lucky to have been noticed so quickly and his suffering was ended quickly. I had done my Dump Road run and checked the fences and there were no problems with the wildlife on that Road. I do this every morning and evening and several times through the night. About an hour and a half later Anthony from the motor cross club alerted us to the roo and we went down cut him out of the fence and then sedated him and administered pain relief and I then assessed him and he had a seriously broken knee and would never walk or hop again. Sadly we had to euthanize this boy but thanks to Anthony he was not hanging in the fence for very long. RIP little man and thank you Anthony.

Now some good news we had a Boo Book Owl bought in this owl had been found in Grass Valley picked up by Sue in Northam dropped of at the vets in York for them to check him out and I picked him up from there and bought him in to care. He was eating fantastically inside but when I put him in the owl cage he wouldn't eat so after a couple of weeks of bringing him in to feed and taking him back out I took him to Eastern Hills Vet and they could find nothing wrong with him either so it was decided we would take him to Kanyana for their specialist bird vet to look at. He discovered a small eye injury that was coursing a partial blindness and after some treatment he was successfully released with a group of juvenile Boo Books so that was a lot of networking with different people and organisations and in the end led to a success and happy ending. Thank you to everyone involved with this little man.

The best care story of all is my little bat. This bat was found lying on the footpath in Brookton and bought to us. He had gone into Torper from the rain and fallen asleep and fell out of the tree he was roosting in. Torper is like a small hibernation when weather conditions are not good. Once he was warmed up he had to be fed and boy could he eat. I would catch moths and put them in his newly bought Bat Cave for him to hunt and eat. Watching him was better than watching TV his antics were so fascinating. I had not worked with Bats before and had to find out from other bat carers what to do. This little male Lesser Long eared Bat has opened my heart to a world of Bats and am looking forward to looking after more of these delightful little critters. Did you know than one micro bat will consume 1.2 million mosquitoes in their lifetime plus moths and other insects? I say bring on more bats and help lessen the mozzies that make our life so miserable.

Decision making under pressure - Rushing but not ruining the moment!

Coming off the back of some good rain across the State there is definitely some positivity and no doubt plenty of action beginning to happen in the paddocks, but before we can take action on something we have to make a decision first.

We make decisions every single day, sometimes without even knowing it, these are often the easy and simple decisions that are part of our routine of daily life. Decisions that are of a more complex nature, involve more risk, or a decision that has to be made under challenging circumstances or pressure can certainly cause us and those around us a bit of stress ... this is normal!

Being in a position to be able to make a decision is a good thing!

For many people making decisions may not be an issue, I'm sure we have all met someone who seems confident, sure of themselves and likes to be in control and take charge of situations and the decisions that go with it. While others of us may be a little more indecisive, seek others advice or approval first, or maybe just need a little more time to think about things. Regardless of which end of the scale we are at, it is a positive to be in a position to be able to make decisions, as this means at least two things; 1. We are in a position to have a say and make a choice; 2. We are not procrastinating.

So for those of us who sometimes struggle with our decision making process why is this so? What factors can impact on our decision making?

There are a number of things at play that can influence decision making. Listed below are a few examples, which are not limited to nor conclusive that all these things will impact on your decision making, rather some things to consider.

- Uncertainty: No matter who we are or what we do, none of us know which way the dice will roll. None of us want to make the wrong decision, but sometimes this cannot be avoided.
- Complexity: This can depend on the nature of our business or situation, e.g. Farming involves so many different interrelated factors that quite often need to be considered (financial, weather, equipment, labour, cost/price).
- Consequences: Something we have all tasted at one stage or another both good and bad. We still need to consider what are the consequences - Risk Vs Reward.
- Alternatives: Have we considered them? Where do we get our information from that may inform us of all available options?
- Interpersonal issues: Who else is affected by our decisions, how will others react? What frame of mind are we in when making decisions? What else do we have going on in our lives, what's our priorities?

What can we do to help this process?

- Try and create a positive space.
- PPPPPP – Prior Planning Prevents Piss Poor Performance.
- Be realistic – look at the factors impacting on our particular circumstances.
- The grass is not always greener. Don't be influenced by what others are doing.
- Stick to your plan/process that you are comfortable with.

"Stay committed to your decisions but stay flexible to your approach".

The end of the 2014/2015 season means we not only have to say goodbye to the courts for a while, but also to several of our valuable members. Ashe and Lincoln Murray along with their boys Mitchell and Dean have made the move to Perth and Norm and Wendy Ireland have also moved to the bright lights of the city in the wake of Norm's retirement.

We wish both families all the very best in their new location. You have all served our club in various roles over the years and you will be missed. We are only going to say "See Ya Later" and not "Goodbye", because we know we will see you back for a visit in 2016!

EASTER 2015

Another year with entries exceeding 250, meant the Match Committee had their work cut out for them. Not only were there a large number of entries, but they also had to work out a new scheduling program. Despite this the event was a great success and all members of the Match Committee are to be commended on their efforts.

All those players needed to be fed and watered and the kitchen and bar was a hive of activity all weekend. All the members who contributed time and donations of food were greatly appreciated.

We would be completely unable to run the event if it wasn't for the courts. Our head Greenkeeper Rob de Gruchy and his band of helpers including Bob Hall and Richard Boladeras do a fantastic job maintaining the courts both prior and during the Easter weekend.

The Easter Sunday Sundowner had a "Bogan" theme this year, which was embraced by all those who attended. Thank-you to Amanda who provided the music and to all the helpers who helped prepare the venue, kitchen and bar for the festivities.

Thank-You to the Shire of Beverley for all your assistance to help us run this event and of course to our Sponsors for your generosity.

Nice Work Team!

And for some...it was just all a bit much!

BEVERLEY REDBACKS FOOTBALL CLUB

Featured Events:

Sunday 3rd May – AFA Round 4: Beverley vs. Quairading at Beverley; and Sunday 17th May – AFA Round 6: Beverley vs. Federals at Beverley.

Football season is underway, and it's been a slightly different start with two night games to begin with, however the players and supporters are embracing the change. We closed out our pre-season with scratch matches against Ellenbrook and Corrigin, and there were many encouraging signs leading into the season proper.

There's plenty of football both at home and away for you to feast on this month, so we hope to see our supporters at the games.

Congratulations to Scott Minchin for once again being named our League Captain for the 2015 Season, and to Dale Wansbrough who has been appointed our League Vice-Captain. We would like to thank our out-going Skipper Robbie Wansbrough for his contribution to the Club in this role.

The Beverley Football Club would like to thank Bob Kempton and his crew of helpers for another successful Fish Night on Friday 24th April!! The evening continues to be one of our most popular events on the calendar.

Beverley Men's Golf

The 2015 season was launched on Saturday 11th April 2015 in hot conditions.

The first event of the season was the T Bone and Sons Ambrose in 3's.

Twenty One participated in the day and it was great to see a good number of members turn out to play.

The winning team on the day was Ali Lewis , Luke Gollan and Stephen Gollan with a nett score of 58.83. They were followed by the team comprising of Bruce Kilpatrick, Thomas McLean and Wayde McLean with a nett score of 60.16 they also had the Best Gross score with 71.

Once again the club would sincerely like to thank Brian Tyrer for his continued support of the club.

Once again warm weather greeted 10 players on Saturday 18th April who were competing in a Stableford event sponsored by Darryl Sims.

The winner of the day was Mark Bickley on a countback from Mark Armstrong with 33 points and in third place was Liam Gollan with 29 points.

Thanks are extended to Darryl Sims for his ongoing support of the club.

Saturday 25th April saw a field of 14 participate (9 men and 5 ladies) for the prestigious Diggers Cup which is proudly sponsored by Lew Shaw.

The winner of the 2015 Diggers Cup was Yvonne Hobbs who had a very impressive 44 Stableford points, to win by three points from Mark Bickley who had 37 points.

Thanks once again are extended to Lew Shaw for his continued sponsorship, of the Diggers Cup.

Beverley Horse and Pony Club

Another month has flown by, our April rally was a fantastic day with loads of fun had by all our riders. The lead line group were ready and rearing to go on Saturday the 18th April with Bethany on Gidget, Aaron on Starlight, Molly on Pippin and Jessica on Paddy. They started the day with a flatwork lesson with Tess Hawke and Marion Burnes that focused on how to get their ponies to go and stop smoothly. Then they had some fun finding all the grooming equipment in the arena, naming each piece and explaining what it is used for. The ponies and the riders had a short break for morning tea and then they were off with the knowledgeable Mrs. Peart for horse handling skills and how to use those grooming tools effectively (look out ponies). Now the ponies were spotless, time to re-saddle and off for a ride out with Jess Appelbee and Marion Byrnes to learn about road rules. Phew.. not finished yet...Lunch and then an afternoon learning and playing the Prince Phillip Mounted Games (PPMG). What a big day for the smallest members of our club and they were all still smiling by the end but I think their parents and coaches were ready for a foot massage!

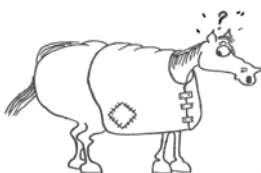

In the Arabian group Tealah trialed a new pony called Woody, Emily trialed a new pony Flinky, Bronte with her new mount Cheeky and Kip on her new pony Gwain. Tahlia on Dixie and Grace on Primrose were all put through their paces with Maria Weilbel. She did an amazing job as half the class were riding new ponies. Maria followed the dressage lesson with a clever serpentine jumping pattern that had both ponies and riders thinking carefully about where they need to be for each jump. Mrs Peart then had the group identifying, explaining and demonstrating the use of horse rugs. In the afternoon the riders joined with the younger groups to learn and practice the PPMG.

Our warm blood group; Chloe on Rusty, Amy on Tom, Jessamin on Playboy, and finally Vicky on Rusty; were coached by Judy Rose, who had them also practising their serpentines in flat work which followed through to their jumping lesson. Judy challenged them by making them ride one handed while serpentining up and down the arena. Bianca borrowed her Tahlia's horse and joined in for show jumping too. In the afternoon the girls practised their lunging skills for up coming exams and to help them deal with stressed horses (and riders!) at events.

Hopefully next month I can report great results from Bronte and Vicky who attended Dryandra Pony Club's two day event on the ANZAC weekend. Our next rally will be on Sunday the 17th of May, new members always welcome; please contact Mrs Pauline Appelbee if you are interested on 9647 1181 or at appelbees@skymesh.com.au
